About the project

My first ever game made for a project in my first year of college.
I made all the art and coded the game mechanics myself.
The game has 3 opponents with one of them requiring a certain amount of wins, each opponent has a different ai and unique animations

Language/Software

C++, SFML in Visual Studio

About Naoise

Currently studying Interactive Digital Art and Design in SETU.
I have had an interest in computing and art from a young age, often tinkering with the computer and trying to learn and understand how it works while also doodling and drawing what ever currently interests me.

I enjoy learning about how things work such as software, languages, art techniques and science.

I like to code and do art but I really like when I can combine the two such as making websites or coding games and creating its assets from scratch.
